VOL. XIII—NO. 93. RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1878. $5.00 PER ANNUM

STATE JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

The Democracy of North Carolina in Council.

SMITH, ASHE AND DILLARD NOMINATED.

GRAVES, AVERY AND GUDGER ENDORSED.

A Ticket that Challenges Universal Admiration—Success Assured in August—The Democracy Unanimous—A United Party Determined on Victory—Full Proceedings of the Convention.

The Convention met at Metropolitan Hall promptly at 12 m. The assemblage was called to order by S A Ashe, Esq, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Hon John Manning, of Chatham, was called to act as temporary chairman.

On taking the chair Mr Manning spoke substantially as follows: Gentlemen of the State Convention, the fighting brigade in the grand army of the Democratic party, it is a great honor to preside over this body, and I thank you for the high compliment which you have paid me, by selecting me as temporary chairman

The record of the Democratic party from 1865 to the present is an illustrious example of constitutional liberty and uncompromising devotion to the rights of the people, and of steady growth. The Democratic column has attacked and carried one by one the strongholds of the Republican party. The past is at least secure, and now the works once gained, they can surely be held by the might of the Democratic hosts. (Applause). We meet to-day to plan a final campaign, from whose successful results much depends. We come here to-day with malice toward none, with hatred only for maliguity. We believe in the people's rights We come in solid column, and with the invincible tread of the Macedonian phalanx The record of the National Democratic party is alike illustrious and brilliant. It gathered strength until it carried the Presidential election of 1876, and drove the Republican party to the commission of a fraud so gross and glaring, and though it has stood, yet no leading Republican has been found so poor to do him honor; his administration depends to-day on the patriotism of Southern Democra's In 1870 the Democratic party of North Carolina carried the General Assembly, sweeping the Republicans as if from a blast of the tornado; in 1874 they carried the Legislature; in 1875 they also carried the Constitutional Convention, inaugurating that policy which has saved Eastern North Carolina from negro control, and at the same time tunneled the western mountains; in 1876 we carried the Legislature and the Executive under the lead of the immortal Vance (applause), founded a system of public schools, and extended the same alleviating and protecting arm around the insane of both races. Now, gentlemen, this is a noble record for slave drivers and people whose property was confiscated thirteen years ago, and with it the object of the Democratic party. It is true, gentlemen, that military despotism has barred the doors of our State capitals from our own people; it is true, gentlemen, that many laws have been made to place restrictons upon the people; it is true, gentlemen, that the people of this noble State now present an undivided front. We come now to put the key stone upon the civic arch that will bind all in one compact whole; we come to select a judiciary which shall be a haven to the poor and weak against wrong and oppression; we come to establish a tribunal for the maintenance of civil liberty, (applause) whose wisdom we may reverence and honor. Gentleman, with home in sight, with true and watchful sentinels at the helm and propitious winds speeding us, shall the crew mutiny and run the old ship aground amid the quicksands of pelf? No! No! (applause) Let us renew our pledges and make one more united effort for the safety of North Carolina, and our gallant sons from their last resting places implore us to lead our divisions, unite our forces and march once more to victory.

At the conclusion of these remarks he declared the convention ready for business. Upon motion of Hon J L Robinson, the organization was completed by the appointment of Charles R. Jones, Esq, of the Charlotte Observer, as Secretary. The representatives of the Democratic press present were also requested to act as Secretaries.

Upon motion of Mr. Galloway, of Wayne, a committee of one from from each District was appointed as committee on credentials.

Upon motion of Mr. H. F. Grainger, of Wayne, a committee of one was appointed from each District, as committee on Permanent Organization.

Mr. Williams, of Wilson, moved that the Committee on Permanent Organization be also instructed to report a Central Executive Committee.

This motion was adopted, but afterward, upon motion of Col. R T Bennett, of Anson, the vote was reconsidered, and it was lost.

The Congressional Districts were then called by Districts, when the following were sent up as the Committee on Credentials:

1st	District,	A L Blow, of Pitt.
2nd	"	B M Collins, Warren.
3rd	"	J G Burr, N. Hanover.
4th	"	N B Canaday, Granville.
5th	"	David Settle, Rockin'ham
6th	"	S J Pemberton, Stanley.
7th	"	C B Watson, Forsythe.
8th	"	J R Simpson, Polk.

The following were chosen as the Committee on Permanent Organization:

1st	District,	Jas E Moore, of Martin.
2d	"	W G Lewis, Edgecombe.
3d	"	C C Lyon, Granville.
4th	"	J D Carr, Orange.
5th	"	M S Robbins, Randolph.
6th	"	A M Powell, Catawba.
7th	"	J S Henderson, Rowan.
8th	"	J W Wilson, Burke.

On motion of Col Jno N Staples, of Guilford, the delegates were instructed to report to the Committee on Credentials, by sending lists to the Secretary; and this motion, with amendment that proper examination of proxies be made, was adopted. The Committee then met in the Mayor's office.

The Committee on Permanent Organization was, on motion, also made a Committee on Resolutions, to which all resolutions were to be referred without debate.

A motion was then adopted that the Secretary call a list of the counties, in order that it might be ascertained whether all were represented. As the roll was called the delegates announced whether the representation was by delegate or by proxy. On a calling of the roll, it was found that all the counties save Ashe and Davie were represented in one of the two ways

At this stage of the proceedings, Hon. Thomas L. Cling man was invited to a seat on the rostrum Taking this, amid cheers, he spoke in a most pleasant style, entertaining the audience while the Committee on Credentials was occupied. In the course of his remarks he said:

The country is in an impoverished condition, and there are indeed hopes of better times. He referred to the manner in which the National government had oppressed the South, spoke against contraction and favored an inflated currency; looked with disfavor on sectionalism. He reviewed thoroughly the elections of President in '68, '72 and '76. He spoke earnestly of the patriotism of the Democrats and predicted a brilliant victory in August.

This brief, pointed and condensed address was loudly applauded, and the references to the past patriotic fealty of the sons of Democracy, and to the substantial reforms that party has originated were greeted with storms of of applause, which shook the building, and showed that the sons of North Carolina are awake and ready to buckle on that bright and impenetrable armor of right and justice which has shone so brilliantly for the past twelve years, and are ready to grasp that spear which, in August, will pierce the heart of the Republican party and leave it a lifeless corpse.

The Committee on Permanent Organization, then, through John S. Henderson, Esq., made the following report:

The Committee on Permanent Organization and Resolutions beg leave to report that they recommend the following gentlemen as permanent officers of this Convention:

H B Short, of Columbus, permanent president.

J D Cameron, of Orange, secretary.

R M Furman, of Buncombe, and Seth M Carpenter, of Craven, assistant secretaries.

For vice-presidents, the following:

1st	District,	S B Spruill, Bertie.
2nd	"	F M Rountree, Greene.
3rd	"	W A Allen, Duplin.
4th	"	W H Bledsoe, Wake.
5th	"	Jesse H Lindsey, Guilford.
6th	"	John D Shaw, Lincoln.
7th	"	R Z Linney, Alexander.
8th	"	J Johnston, Macon.

Mr. John S Henderson and Capt J L Robinson were then appointed by the temporary chairman to conduct the president to his seat. Upon his appearing on the rostrum he was loudly cheered. He said:

Gentlemen of the Convention—I thank you most heartily for the honor which you have conferred on me by selecting me to preside over your deliberations. I am not vain enough to think the compliment was bestowed on me, but rather on that glorious county which I represent, and that glorious region, the Cape Fear, from which I come. (Applause.) I am admonished by the late hour and the quantity of talking already done, not to speak long. We are here for business—the most important business that has called us together since the war—

A GOOD JUDICIARY.

We are here for the purpose of selecting such men as the people have confidence in. Gentlemen of the Convention, I shall rely upon you to aid me in preserving order, for, after all, it is with the delegates to say whether we shall have order or not. We may differ, but I beg that when we leave this hall, that all differences may be buried.

At the conclusion of these remarks, he declared the Convention duly and regularly organized for the transaction of business. The Vice Presidents and Secretaries took seats on the platform.

A resolution was introduced that every candidate who allows his name to come before the convention for candidacy, pledge himself to abide by its decision and action. A delegate, rising, said this was an insult to every true Democrat. The offerer of the resolution stated that its purpose was to guard against independency. He stated that rumors of such action on the part of a candidate had reached him. A scene of great disorder ensued, and he was loudly called on for the name of the man of whom such reports were heard. The maker of the resolution then withdrew it.

Hon T B Venable, of Granville, stated that it was understood that the vote was to be taken on the basis of the vote for Vance in 1876, and that one delegate was to be allowed for each 100 votes, or for a remaining fraction over 50. He said that the county of Granville had, through fraud, lost over 300 votes, and was thus only represented by a strength of 21 instead of 24 votes, her quota. He moved that the full number of votes be allowed the county. This was adopted, with an amendment that every county be allowed a full representation upon the basis of the 1876 vote.

The Chairman then declared nominations for the position of Chief Justice to be in order. At this stage the committee on Credentials made their report, to the effect that Dare and Ashe were the only counties unrepresented. They also reported a number of counties represented by proxies, while the greater number are represented by delegates direct. The report was adopted.

Nominations for the position of Chief Justice being in order, the name of Hon. W. N. H. Smith was placed before the convention. Hon. W. T. Dortch, of Wayne, moved that the nomination be made unanimous, but some dissent being heard, Mr. Stedman, of Bladen, moved that the roll of counties be called and the vote taken. This was adopted. The roll was then called, each county answering. Upon such call the votes were found to be unanimous for Smith. Amid loud cheering he was declared by the Chairman to be the unanimous choice of the convention.

The chairman then declared that nominations for the two Associate Justices were in order.

The following gentlemen were then placed in nomination for these positions:

Major John Hughes nominated Judge M. E. Manly, of Craven. He said: Gentlemen of the Convention:—M. E. Manly is a man whose reputation is as wide as the limits of the State, whose character is unimpeachable, a man who has given to the people of North Carolina proof of his fitness for the position to which the people now nominate him. A man, fellow-citizens, whom I believe if there be one entitled to the position of Associate Justice, that man is M. E. Manly, of Craven. I do not, Mr. President, recognize the right of one man over another—I look upon it as the province of the sovereign State to bestow upon him who is most worthy; but if there is in the State of North Carolina, a man whose claims upon the people of North Carolina for the position of Associate Justice, that man is M. E. Manly. He was elected by the Legislature to serve for life or during good behavior. No one can say he ever misbehaved. He is a vigorous and healthy man. We elected him to the position which you are filling to-day—and were it not for the power which compelled us to surrender he would be serving to-day. Then, gentlemen, it was by this strong hand that this honorable gentlemen who faithfully discharged his duty to you and I and the people of the State of North Carolina, was forced from office. When once more the power is given you, you shall say walk in good and faithful servant, and occupy the position which the people have given you, and of which you have been unlawfully, unjustly and unconstitutionally deprived. Again I ask you for the success of the Democratic ticket, as there is no man in the State of North Carolina that occupies a more exalted position, or one more loved, or whom the people would like to honor than M. E. Manly, of Craven, to nominate him. He is a man of worth, an honest man, and would discharge the duties of the office to which we now nominate him with credit.

R. Z Linney, Esq., placed the name of G. N. Folk, of Caldwell, in nomination He said:—There are habits, I may say unremitting habits of study which have qualified him for the satisfactory discharge of all the duties of the high office to which I have now nominated him. Moreover, gentlemen of the convention, his powers of intellect are of the highest order and his grasp of mind compares favorably with the greatest names of American jurisprudence; as a consummate master of the art of oratory he has but few peers and no superiors. I believe it was Mat. Carpenter who said a lawyer must live like a hermit and work like a horse; Folk learned this before Carpenter ever said it. That he has some faults, gentlemen, I do not pretend to deny, but they are like spots in the sun and deserve to be noticed for their singularity only. If he were elected he would adorn the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Competent to solve the problematics of the law, let us nominate and elect Folk.

Hon. J. L. Robinson, of Macon, said:—I have the honor to place in nomination for the position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the name of David Schenck, of Lincoln, a man whom the people of the West present as their favored son, and ask our friends of other sections to join with me in bestowing this compliment on him as a wise man. We ask for him the sympathy which impelled us in the year 1876 to rescue those of the East and give them the relief which the Hebrews yearned for under the Egyptian yoke of slavery. We ask it because he is honored, trusted and idolized among the people with whom he passed his boyhood days and years of riper manhood. We ask it because of his devotion to principles of fairness in rescuing his native section from the clutches of detectives and lawless revenue officers. In integrity, in intelligence, in legal attainments, he towers above his legal brethren. Place the name of Schenck on the ticket and from every mountain top and valley shall go up a shout of victory from one end of the State to the other Knowing well he will wield the sword of law in defence of liberty and law, I present the name of Schenck and ask the convention to nominate him.

Major D. J. Devane, of New Hanover, put the name of Judge A. A. McKoy before the convention, and said:—I feel satisfied, Mr. Chairman, that this meets the concurrence of the Democratic party of the entire Cape Fear district. So far as I am concerned personally, I can make this nomination without fear or restraint. I can and do do it cheerfully. He will add strength to the ticket, and will, when elected, discharge the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of all the people of the State. Mr. President, the name I present is not unknown to the people of North Carolina. When I hear recounted the successive victories the Democratic party has achieved since the war, and many of them achieved under the most unfavorable circumstances, I say here to-day that no man, be he from the East or West, has done more to bring about that state of affairs which we see to-day than A. A. McKoy. I regard him, gentlemen of the convention, as preeminently fitted for the position to which our section of the country nominates him. A man of the first order of executive ability; a man learned in the law; and a man who with his strength and vigor is capable of coming, in the ordinary course of human events, to grace the bench of North Carolina, he possesses, as is well known to every gentleman in this convention, the quality of patience.

He is a christian; he is learned in his profession. I say here and advisedly, there is no position on earth that could make McKoy deviate one hair's breadth from what he conceived to be right. A man of the kindest and best heart; a man of the very highest sense of honor and justice. I am confident that if he receive the nomination here, to-day, there is no man to his age, in North Carolina, who would better adorn the position to which we ask the Convention to nominate him.

Col. H. C. Jones, of Mecklenburg, seconded the nomination of Judge Schenck in a speech of some length, in which he glowing portrayed the services which Judge S. had performed in the tier of counties beyond the mountains, by upholding the jurisdiction of North Carolina against the tyranical power of the general government, and said the people of those counties had manifested their love for him by the solidity with which they have cast their votes for him. You have elected him Judge, and wherever he has discharged the duties of that office, he comes with the endorsement, "well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Mr. Kerr, of Sampson, seconded the nomination of Mr. McKoy.

Hon. W. T. Dortch, of Wayne, put in nomination Hon. George Howard, of Edgecombe. He said:—Judge Howard presided in the Superior Courts of the State, from 1858 to the close of the war, to the entire satisfaction of every man in the State. I have known Judge Howard for thirty years; I have attended the same Courts, and without disparagement to other men I undertake to say that there is no man in North Carolina who is more fitted for the exalted position than he.

Mr. Steadman, of Bladen, seconded the nomination of Hon. A A McKoy.

Mr. Phillips, of Edgecombe, seconded the nomination of Judge Howard, and said: he has filled the judicial office and was an officer of the memorable convention of 1861, and again served the State in 1865. Honest by nature; not seeking the office; temperate in habits; free from the corrupting and corroding influences of the present age, his character stands out in bold relief in those qualities which go so far to make one honored in public or private life. He has never shown himself deficient; he feels the responsibility, but does not fear to venture where others shrink.

Col. Green of Warren, nominated Hon. T. S. Ashe, of Anson. In bringing his name forward, Mr. Green said that when the banner of the Democracy was trailing in the dust, Mr. Ashe was the only one who dared take it up, and that if there was one man in North Carolina who was entitled to the position, Mr. Ashe was that man.

Mr. Whedbee, of Pasquotank, nominated Hon. P. H. Winston, of Bertie. Mr. Whedbee, in quite a lengthy and interesting speech, gave Mr. Winston's claims upon the party. He stated that when there was nobody to take up the Democratic banner, Mr. Winston and two others, in the old court house in this city, re-organized and re-established the party in this State. Gov. Worth, he said, had written a letter in which he stated that he not only owed his nomination, but also his election, to Mr. Winston.

Mr. Bennett, of Anson, seconded the nomination of Hon. T. S. Ashe. He spoke of the success Mr. Ashe had met with in the practice of his profession; of his public and private character; of the several positions of high responsibility which he had held, and in all which he had retained the confidence of his constituents; and concluded by paying a glowing tribute to the patriotism which he has always exhibited.

Colonel J. A. Gilmer, of Guilford, put in nomination the name of Colonel John H. Dillard, of Guilford, before the Convention and asked that he be nominated, as his nomination would disarm more effectually than any other man's the opposition from the other side, and take the last redoubt in the coming election.

Maj. Graham, of Orange, presented the name of Hon. Thos. Ruffin, of Orange.

He said Mr. Ruffin was honored by the people and had filled every office to which the people had called him, acceptably; and was the only man who resigned his position in the dark days of 1861 to lead his comarades on the battle field.

Mr. Mason, of Northampton, placed the name of Hon. T. N. Hill, of Halifax, before the convention. In presenting Mr. Hill's name Mr. Mason said that he came before the convention as the leader of a forlorn hope, with no record of political achievements; he came from a section where they had borne the heat of the battle; where they had heard the victorious shouts of the triumphant brethren of North Carolina, while all they could do was to retire from the contest with all but honor lost. In conclusion he based Mr. Hill's claims entirely upon his untiring devotion to the Democratic party of North Carolina.

Mr. Morning, of Chatham, seconded the nomination of Mr. Hill.

Hon T B Venable, of Granville, nominated Marcellus Lanier, Esq, of Granville.

Mr Moring, of Chatham, seconded the nomination of Hon Thomas N Hill.

Hon F E Shober, of Rowan, nominated Hon John M Clement, of Davie.

Col T C Fuller, of Wake, seconded the nomination of Hon P H Winston, Sr, of Bertie.

Richard H. Smith, Esq., of Halifax, seconded the nomination of Thos. N. Hill.

M. Q. Waddell, of Chatham, in a most humorous speech, favored the claims of Ashe and Manly.

The vote was on motion then taken by counties for the two Associate Justices. The Secretary called the roll of counties, and each answered, giving the number of votes to which entitled and the names of the men chosen.

ROLL OF COUNTIES.

Below is the roll of counties as announced on the final vote. EVENING SESSION.

President H. B. Short called the convention to order at 8:56.

Upon motion of Captain Wm. Bigg, of Granville, speeches were limited to five minutes.

Col. Thomas C. Fuller, of Wake, obtained the floor, and said: Mr. Chairman and Delegates of the Convention.—Harmony in the Democratic ranks is the paramount consideration of this convention. To-day, with one voice, the East, West and Centre have placed in nomination Hon. W. N. H. Smith, of Wake, for Chief Justice. They have nominated Hon. Thomas S. Ashe, of Anson, Associate Justice, from the West. There is only one line of demarkation between the two sections; there is only one line which divides the East from the West. Only one sectional division has ever existed, and it is that which divides the Eastern from the Western Circuit of the United States Court. Mr. Ashe lives in that portion of North Carolina embraced in the Western District, and, delegates, if you mean fair play, if you desire to share equally the burden of this campaign, the next man must come from the East. I place in nomination Patrick H. Winston, Sr., of Bertie.

Under instructions from the Chair, the Secretary proceeded to call the roll of delegates, and after much change the final vote was exhibited in favor of Hon. John H. Dillard, of Guilford.

Hon. Chas. M. Cooke, of Franklin, arose and said: Gentlemen, Franklin county has cast her vote here to-day for a man who was born on her soil. He is flesh of my flesh and bone of my bone. We have worked for him, and now on the part of my county and in the name of P H Winston, I move the nomination of Mr Dillard be made unanimous.

In a speech that was pertinent and appropriate, Col Paul B Means, of Cabarrus, in behalf of his county, of David Schenck and of the west, seconded the motion, and it was unanimously carried.

Kope Elias, Esq, of Macon, moved that this Committee endorse the nominations made by the Judicial Conventions of the 7th, 8th and 9th districts for Judges of the Superior Court. Adopted.

The Convention endorsed as the Superior Court Judges, J F Graves, of Surry, 7th district; A C Avery, of Burke, 8th district; J C L Gudger, of Haywood, 9th district.

Col Bennett, of Anson, moved that the District Executive Committee select the State Central Committee.

This was amended by Col Jones, of Charlotte, that the Districts present select one member each to constitute the Central Committee.

These motions were disposed of by Maj T B Venable, of Granville, who moved that the Chair appoint seven gentlemen as a Central Committee to act with the State Executive Committee. Carried.

On motion the Secretary called for the Committees of each district which had been selected, and they were adopted. The Executive Committees of each Congressional District are as follows:

EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Kope Elias, of Macon, A M Erwin, of McDowell; B F Logan, of Cleveland; Rob't M. Furman, of Buncombe.

A motion of Hon. Jas. L. Robinson, of Macon, that the thanks of the Convention are due the President, Vice-President and Secretaries for the efficient manner which they have done their duty, was carried unanimously with great applause.

Hon. J L. Robinson, of Macon, moved and it was unanimously adopted that the thanks of the Convention are tendered to the city authorities of Raleigh for the use of the hall, and to the various railroads of the State which have extended courtesies to the delegates to the State Convention.

The Convention then adjourned, after which the Executive Committee met and designated 8:30 a. m. to-day as the hour for the meeting of that Committee, at the Yarbrough house.

NOTE BY THE REPORTER.

The speeches in yesterday's convention were reported short-hand and in the confusion incident to the proceedings, gentlemen who would have been reported could not be heard, and it therefore appears that the speeches of some delegates which should have been reported are omitted.

Indians on the War Path.

By telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, June 13.—An Omaha special says that General Crook received a telegram yesterday from Fort Hall, stating that friendly Bonnacks, with passes from General Crook, sent to the hostiles for information, were met by volunteers and sent back. It is impossible for the military to learn the state of affairs. Great trouble is anticipated. General Crook says the report of concerted action on the part of various tribes is probably false. Each tribe is acting independently. He thinks Sitting Bull not likely to come down till late. A general Indian war is feared by the officers here, who have been stationed in the Indian country and know the disposition and character of the red men.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—A Silver City, Idaho despatch, dated last night, says the Indians at Juniper Mountain will be able to-morrow to effect a junction with those who have left the Molheur reservation, and in combination with the disaffected Piutes and Shoshones, will number about six hundred effective fighting men. A daughter of old Winnemucca, chief of the Piutes, has been arrested in Jordan Valley, while attempting to smuggle ammunition to the hostile Indians. Some of the Bonnack Indians have returned to Fort Hall. The farmers have deserted their homes for a hundred miles around. A Winnemucca dispatch says that Fort McDermot is garrisoned only by a few infantrymen, who might be overpowered, should the Indians attack them in force. The refugee settlers have gathered there for protection.

A Boise City dispatch, dated last night, says: General Howard arrived this morning. He soon learned the situation, and came to the conclusion to mass his troops at the sheep ranche, on the Wimnemucca road, and take the field himself, making his headquarters temporarily at the ranche, where he can use the telegraph.

The Mexican Raiders.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A San Antonio, Texas, special says, that on Saturday, Gen. MacKenzie and Col. Shafter, with a strong force, crossed into Mexico, in pursuit of raiders. That night, forty miles above Eagle Pass, they were obliged to recross to Texas, and telegraphed for reinforcements. Twenty companies of cavalry, a section of artillery of two Gatling and two rifled guns, were sent to reinforce them. It is believed the entire force recrossed into Mexico. The troops have fifteen days rations, and a heavy train, and two experienced guides. On Friday General Nemcio was killed by Escobedo's soldiers, near Piedras Negros. Gen. Nemcio was in command of government troops at Piedras Negros. His death proves a serious loss to the Diaz cause on the border.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Pitkin and Conkling had a prolonged interview yesterday. The Senator received the Ex-Marshal with open-armed cordiality.

Capt. Bofinger, of St. Louis, visited Secretary Sherman to-day, and secured an order by which bonded goods may be shipped from New Orleans to St. Louis, on deck; heretofore they were carried in the hold, under sealed hatches.

One hundred gentlemen from Richmond, Va., headed by Gen. Jos. E. Johnston, are here in the interest of a reduction of the tax on tobacco.

The Canadian Riot.

By Telegraph to the News.

QUEBEC, June 13.—In addition to the three regiments from Montreal, one is to arrive from Halifax. The rioters threaten to prevent their landing.

At a mass meeting last night the strikers agreed to meet at 1:30 p. m., to-day, at Jucques Cartier Hall.

Several hundred assembled at the jail last evening, at 9 o'clock and demanded the release of the rioters who had been arrested. They broke the windows, but did no further damage.

End of the Strike in England.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, June 13.—Burnley, manufacturers, report that operatives show a general desire to resume work. It is feared the Central Relief Committee at Preston will be obliged to suspend operations for want of funds. The Overlooker's church operatives have passed a resolution recommending a termination of the strike.

Operatives of a number of mills at Burnley and Tadmorden resumed work to-day at the ten per cent reduction.

Hail Storm.

By Telegraph to the News.

BOSTON, June 13.—A severe thunder storm passed over New England, at Rochester, N. H. Rain fell to the depth of 2¾ inches in an hour. The ground was white with hail stones of the size of walnuts. Great damage was done to crops.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

More Amendments to the Revenue Laws—The Sundry Appropriation Bill—The Bill to Repeal the Resumption Act.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—SENATE.—Morrill, of Vermont, from the Committee on Finance, reported, with amendment, the bill which was partly considered and recommitted yesterday, to amend section 23 of the Act of June 22, 1874, to amend the Customs and Revenue laws, and to repeal moieties. The amendment provides that the section, as amended, shall take effect from and after June 22, 1874, instead of from and after the passage of the act. The object of the bill is to fix the salary of Surveyors of Customs at Baltimore and Portland, Maine, at $4,500 per annum each, and the Surveyor at New Orleans at $3,500 Placed on the calendar.

Senator Morrill subsequently called the bill up, and the amendment of the Committee was agreed to, and the bill passed.

Matthews, of Ohio, from the Committee on Railroads, reported, without amendment and without recommendation, the Senate bill to aid in the construction of the Corpus Christi, Sandiego and Rio Grande Railroad. Placed on the calendar.

HOUSE.—In the House last night there were two calls of House and two pages of Civil Sundry Appropriation bill forced through. This morning they are voting to pass the bill as reported from the committee. The majority seem determined to force business and adjourn on Monday.

The Potter Committee is in secret session.

The House, by a majority of two to one, refused to take up the contested election case of Richardson vs. Rainey. The case had been set for to-day, and is usually considered a question of high privilege. Its postponement indicates clearly that the House will entertain this session nothing but absolutely necessary business to carry on the government during the recess.

The motion to suspend the rules and pass the Civil Service Sundry Bill, as it came from the Committee, thus setting off all amendments mostly known as "jobs," failed by a large majority. This action is rather unfavorable to an adjournment next Monday.

SENATE—The Senate passed a number of bills on the calendar. At the expiration of the morning hour, Mr. Voorhees moved to suspend any further consideration of bills on the calendar, and take up the bill to repeal the special resumption act, which led to some discussion.

The Senate by a vote of yeas 45; nays 15, agreed to the substitute of the Committee on Finance the House the bill to repeal the specie resumption act, after amending the same, so as to read, that from and after the passage of this act, United States notes shall be receivable the same as coin in payment for four per centum bonds now authorized by law, to be issued on and after October first, 1878; said notes shall be receivable for duties on imports. All the latter part of the substitute reported by the Committee on Finance, forbidding the retirement of legal tender notes, etc., was stricken out, that subject being covered by a bill which recently passed the Senate. The title was amended so as to read, an act to make United States notes receivable for duties on imports and for other purposes.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, June 13.—The Standard's Madrid dispatch says: On and after July 1st, extra duties only will be maintained on pretroleum, benzine, vegetable oils and sugar.

The Post's Berlin special says: On the arrival of Prince Gortschakoff he was exceedingly pale. He was wrapped in thick furs, and was carried from the train to the carriage. His condition causes some apprehension.

A special from Berlin to the Daily Telegraph says: In consequence of Count Andrassy's desiring time for the plenipotentiaries to Congress to exchange views privately, it is probable the second sitting will be postponed until Monday.

The Daily News' Constantinople dispatch says: 25,000 Russians troops are sick with typhoid fever. Similar diseases in this neighborhood.

The Times Vienna special confirms the report that the Austrian forces in Dalmatia and Transylvania, and on Save, have been ordered to be placed on war footing, and supplied with proper and competent artillery.

A despatch from Rome to the Pall Mall Gazette, says, in consequence of the result of Belgian elections, Vatican has determined to recall papal nuncio from Brussels.

The Pope's health is declining. Physicians declare his removal from Vatican is necessary to his recovery, but the majority of Cardinals resist removal.

BRUSSELS, June 13.—In consequence of the success of the Liberals in late elections, the ministers have resigned, and M. Herbert, Frere Orban, distinguished statesman, have been entrusted with the formation of a new Cabinet.

LONDON, June 13.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says, those persons who anticipate that Lord Beaconsfield is preparing a great surprise will not be disappointed. The coup may bring him much popularity, but it will burden the country with great responsibility. The control of reforms in Asia Minor and maintenance of the freedom of Constantinople will be undertaken by Great Britain, while European Turkey will be left to the control of the States whose special interests are there. To satisfy Austria and adjust the question of indemnity will be the chief difficulties of the Congress. The other questions are already settled in principle. Lord Beaconsfield's demands will involve even more than the foregoing outline, but they have already received the support of Germany and France, and to some extent of Austria and Italy. Should Austria's special demands be satisfactorily met, Lord Beaconsfield will play a leading part in a dazzling peace. As, however, his diplomatic policy will be a clear departure from the doctrine of non-intervention, he will probably make that the justification for the dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the country.

The Convention Yesterday.

The Convention which yesterday met in this city, transacted its business, and last night adjourned, was the finest body of men that ever assembled in Raleigh.

It was pre-eminently a Convention of young blood; it was an assembly of the youth, energy and intelligence of the State; a union of the impetuosity and enthusiasm of the young men of North Carolina, that told the spectator, if it told any story, that here are the men upon whose willing shoulders may rest any burden that the protection and defence of liberty and law shall impose.

There never was a meeting since that twentieth of May conference at Charlotte, in which all the feeling that earnest manhood is capable of was more decidedly displayed than in yesterday's convention. There was confusion, and disorder, if you please, but no discourtesy. There was a gentlemanly bearing throughout the most heated debate, and a regard for the feelings and wishes of others, that dulled the point of self-assertion in the midst of the most anxious strivings for a personal friend or party favorite.

Not one word of discourteous speech escaped any delegate; not a single menace, nor a disregard for the rights of others, was manifest throughout the proceedings, and the News is thus proud of the young Democracy which exhibited itself in Metropolitan Hall yesterday; a Democracy of vigorous growth, big lunged, big hearted, full gendered, equal to any emergency; a Democracy which the News is proud to be the representative of.

The Supreme Court Ticket.

On the work of the Convention yesterday, the public verdict will be "well done."

The Supreme Judiciary which the Democracy of North Carolina yesterday took the first step toward erecting, is one which will please the people of the State, recommend itself to the judgment of the American people, and challenge the admiration of sister States.

For purity of personal, professional and public reputation, the people of North Carolina were never given the opportunity to record their votes for three gentlemen the superior of Smith, Ashe and Dillard: And in point of learning and ability, there is not a Judiciary in any State of the Union superior to that which this State will possess after the first day of August next.

It is a comfort to the public mind to feel that in the Judiciary to be elected in August, the people will have a court of last resort in which life, liberty and property are guaranteed all the protection which the legal safeguards established by English civilization for the past centuries of intellectual and religious triumph have succeeded in establishing and throwing around society. That in the Judges, before whom the final hearing of all great causes involving life and death, the liberty of the citizen and the estates of the orphaned and dependent, North Carolina has sitting in her highest temple of Justice men who, human may err, but so high above suspicion or reproach, that public confidence reposes itself in that nearest approach to human infallibility, the stern and unflinching integrity of the highest type of exalted manhood; a manhood as illustrious as it is unpretentious, pure and devoted to all that is good, noble and patriotic in mankind.

The Western Democrats.

A looker-on in the convention yesterday could not but have been struck with the earnestness and grit of the representatives of the Western Democracy.

They were overwhelmed in the convention. The predominant sentiment of the party was adverse to their choice, and they were compelled to stand up before their countrymen and see their idol sacrificed and shattered in their very presence.

There came to those gentlemen yesterday a crisis in their lives which called for the exercise of all the fortitude at the command of human resource, and they stood it like men who carried in their bosoms hearts as strong and steadfast as the immovable rocks of their loved western wilds. As the gallant representative of the Cape Fear referred to the parting words of Lee at Appomatox, "God bless North Carolina," one could not refrain from the mental exclamation, "God bless the Western North Carolinians."

Talk about your heroes of ancient history, your Spartans, your Light Brigade at Balaklava, your legions that followed Jackson through the Valley, or rescued the army of Lee at the Wilderness, but the moral heroism of the supporters of Judge Schenck in yesterday's convention was the sublimity of human fortitude, triumphing over disappointment.

Return to your homes, gentlemen of the mountains. You lost your choice, but yours was the victory that challenges admiration. The East and the Centre said they could not adopt your candidate, but there was no exultant shout of victory over your defeat. The men of the East appreciated your feelings, and sympathized with your sentiments of admiration for one who had upheld the shield of civil liberty among you, but there were unfortunate conditions existing that deprived you of that which would most have gratified your hearts.

As you bore yourselves in yesterday's assembly, so you will bear yourselves in this and all future campaigns; and hereafter, when a convention of the State of North Carolina shall be called, yesterday's example of the West will not be lost upon the Democracy of this great and glorious old commonwealth.

Gentlemen of the Western Democracy, the News salutes you. Yours was the defeat. Yet, more than this, it was yours to example the high attributes of manhood under adversity.

The People's Ticket.

The people of North Carolina will know from to-day for whom they are to vote in August to be the Judges of their Supreme Court, and of the three districts in which there this year occur vacancies.

It is not necessary to biographically introduce the gentlemen designated. Mr. Smith was well-known through his public career in the U. S. Congress before the war, where he came within one vote of being speaker of the House of Representatives; in the Congress of the Confederate States throughout the most trying period of the history of the South, and later as Chief Justice of the State.

Mr. Ashe was elected a Senator to the Confederate Congress. He came of a noble ancestry, and has in no single instance belied his lineage. He was the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1868, sacrificing himself to the necessities of Democratic party organization, when the bayonet of the Federal soldier was at the throat of North Carolina. He has been in Congress, where he took the position of a leading lawyer among the array of the finest legal talent in the Union.

Mr. Dillard has less of public record than any gentleman who has probably ever been offered for a position of equal prominence to the present. It speaks well for him that he is so modest and retiring, that, possessing the first merit in the State, the office was in patient search of him long before it located his whereabouts. It is a tribute to this gentleman, that, for years, when a position on the Supreme Court Bench has been under consideration among lawyers, the name of Mr. Dillard was always the first to suggest itself.

The three gentlemen named in connection with the Superior Court Bench have before been presented in these columns, and an extended reference is not now necessary. That they are worthy and able gentlemen, the public has the guarantee of the people of the Districts in which they reside, and with that certificate of merit, the general public is content to rest.

There is now nothing for the Democracy of North Carolina to do but support and elect the State ticket presented, and upon the result there are not two opinions.

The Best Government in the World.

Washington Post.

One of the most amusing things we have perused in a long time is a screed in one of the soporific dailies of Philadelphia, congratulating its readers that our country is not like Germany, where they go gunning for Emperors; nor like Russia, where they abolish trial by jury whenever trial by the executioner is more convenient; nor like any other effete monarchy; but, on the other hand, as the late Mr. Morton was fond of saying, the best government the world ever saw. All of which is doubtless true, except as to a few inconsequential details, for example: In sixteen years we have had the most tremendous civil war and social revolution ever known; we have had one President assassinated, another impeached, and a third stolen into office in defiance of the popular will; we have had a section of our country, containing upwards of twelve millions of people, governed by satraps and dragoon officers on the approved Russian plan; we have had a tyranny of financial policy that has crushed the very life out of our industries; and finally, we are now engaged in an inquest upon the highest officials in the country, with a view to indicting them for common perjury and forgery, or the subornation thereof by bribery. Noting these few trifling exceptions, we join our soporific contemporary in rejoicing that we are not as other men, but, on the contrary, have the best government the world ever saw.

Col. T. M. Holt.

ROCKINGHAM CO., June 11, 1878.

Correspondence of the Observer.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As the turn of thought in this State seems to look further forward than immediate nominations, and to speculate upon the probable men who are to be chosen to govern our affairs in the future, I have been casting about to see who would be the best man for the next Governor of North Carolina. Whether this state of public opinion has been produced by the politicians or not, it is nevertheless a wide spread disposition. At any rate your correspondent has fallen into it. In these days, when the candidates for every office are selected by the politicians without reference to their fitness, but on the principle of "your turn next," would it not be well for the people to take this matter into their own hands and see to it that men are nominated for these positions who are competent to fill them, and who have a common interest with them in the material prosperity of the country. With this view I propose for the consideration of the people for the next Governor of North Carolina, Col. Thos. M. Holt, of Alamance. Col. Holt is a large and prosperous cotton manufacturer, and a planter on an extensive scale, and his public services are not unknown to the people of this State. No man in the State has done more for the material prosperity of his section than has he. Well would it be for the people of North Carolina to have a Governor whose interests and sympathies would be so entirely in unison with her people and her progress. He belongs to a family who have been no politicians, as I understand the word, but who have spent long and useful lives in developing those material interests upon which our prosperity as a State depends.

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY..... JUNE 14, 1878.

The Homestead.

Reidsville News.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States declaring the ex post facto feature of our homestead law unconstitutional, is already working damage to this section. Executions are being run against a number of parties who, we learn, will be broken up completely.

Joseph Dobson.

Winston Sentinel.

The nominee for Solicitor for this Judicial District, is the present incumbent of the office, and he is without doubt one of the best prosecuting officers in the State. In the line of his duty he has, of course, made some enemies, but there is no stronger man before the people in our District, and as a campaigner, he has no superior, and there is not a shadow of doubt of his triumphant election in August.

Independents.

Salisbury Watchman.

Does any body know of any man who broke with his party and ran as an independent for office who prospered by it? Does any one know of a man who has obtained a position under circumstances stained with suspicion as to the means employed to gain it, who has prospered by it? Truth and honesty will assert themselves against all the powers of earth and hell. The man who deceives himself on these points is as much to be pitied as blamed.

Public Education.

Happy Home Educator.

Because our paper is named the Educator it is no reason that we should abstain from all discussion of politics. People need education in politics as much as anything else just at this time, and we advertise everybody that we intend to have our say in every public measure. Our patrons are the very men who suffer from the frauds and mismanagement of demagogues, and our pockets are empty when the money is scarce with them, so that we consider we have as much right to discuss politics as anybody in the country.

Wilmington Banks.

Wilmington Review.

The consolidation of the First National Bank and the Dawson Bank has been effected. The business will be conducted by the First National Bank, which assumes the deposits and certificates of the other. The directors are Messrs. E. E. Burruss, James Dawson, James Sprunt, Alfred Martin and D. G. Worth. Mr. Burruss continues as President, with Mr. Dawson as Vice-President; Mr. Walker remains Cashier, with Mr. Larkins as Assistant Cashier, and Mr. H. M. Bowden is retained as Teller and Mr. J. H. Boatwright as Clerk.

Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, free of charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. oct26dawly

Happy tidings for nervous sufferers, and those who have been dosed, drugged, and quacked. Pulvermacher's Electric Belts effectually cure premature debility, weakness, and decay. Book and Journal, with information worth thousands, mailed free. Address PULVERMACHER GALVANIC Co. Cincinnati, O. no18deodawly

There is Trouble in Store.

For those who neglect to rectify irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels, which they foolishly imagine will "come right of themselves." Of this silly error such persons are usually disabused by the development of some serious chronic malady, traceable to what they were pleased to consider a trifling disorder of the above named associate organs. Such a culmination is easily avoided. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters invariably has the effect of renewing the secretive action of a torpid liver, restoring healthy digestion and assimilation, and rendering the habit of body perfectly regular. The activity of these all important functions being restored, and the entire system toned and regulated by this incomparable corrective and invigorant, no danger to the general health is to be apprehended from causes which, if not eradicated in time, will assuredly undermine it. ju11-6t

The Bingham School.

During all of this century this institution of learning, under the able control of the Binghams, has borne a reputation most honorable. Taking its place among the things of which true citizens of the State feel proud, by its perfect management it is justly to be deemed one of the brightest stars in the galaxy of educational institutions. The number of those who have stepped from its portals, prepared to take the first steps on the pathway of life, is legion, and wherever we meet one who has been a "Bingham Boy," no Virginian can be more prompt in acknowedging the maternity of the Old Dominion than he does the place where he received his instruction. With the best instructors, all advantages of literary and military training, the school is unsurpassed.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

FORTY-FOURTH COMMENCEMENT.

A Large Crowd Present---Orations---The Graduating Class---The Proficiency of Students.

THURSDAY.

This morning, though a little cloudy, opened quite pleasant, and the people were astir early, making preparations for to-day's exercises. The early train brought quite a large crowd from Raleigh and the country below, and the campus is alive with people, standing in groups or marching to strains of sweet music by Stanley's band.

At 11 o'clock the Societies formed in procession, and after marching around the campus, formed to the left of the College in open file, and the Board of Trustees, and distinguished visitors, with the graduating class, marched through the file to the Chapel, the Societies closing files and following them. The Chapel was soon packed, and a great crowd of people were on the outside.

The President, Dr. Wingate, called the audience to order, and stated he was sorry that the Chapel was too small for the audience, but hoped by next commencement to have one large enough.

The exercises were then opened with prayer by Rev. F. M. Jordan.

Dr. Wingate introduced Mr. J. G. Bunch, of Chowan, who delivered the LatinSalutatory, which, you must know, was very interesting to the audience. It was pronounced by judges to have been exceedingly well done.

Again the band furnishes us with sweet music, and the audience join in lively conversation.

The next oration was by Mr. W. E. Daniel, of Weldon, who took as his subject "The Lamp of Experience." Mr. Daniel is the highest graduate of this session, receiving the degree of Master of Arts. He has a fine college record, having missed no duty and has not received a demerit during his whole college life of four years.

The audience again join in sprightly conversation, and the band furnishes us with more delightful music.

Mr. A. E. Walters, of Wake Forest, is next introduced, who delivered the third oration, and takes as his subject, "To bear is to conquer." Mr. Walters is a son of the late W. T. Walters, D. D., and is a very pleasant speaker.

The 3rd oration was by Mr. F. R. Cooper, of Sampson county, N. C., from the subject, "Man a progressive being."

The 4th oration was by Mr. W. J. R. Ford, of Marion county, S. C., whose subject was, "Duties are ours, Results belong to God." Music.

The 5th oration was by Mr. J. C. Caddell, of Carthage, N. C., and his subject, "No day without its mark."

The 6th oration was by Mr. W. T. Jordan, who took as his subject, "Night brings out the stars." At the conclusion of Mr. Jordan's oration he was presented with a beautiful gold watch by Mr. J. F. McMulan, from the father of the speaker.

The 7th oration was delivered by Mr. N. D. Johnson, "subject, "This age needs heroes."

The 8th oration, by Mr. W. C Burch, "The power and freedom of thought."

The Valedictory address was then delivered by Mr. W. E. Daniel, of Weldon.

The President, Dr. Wingate, addressed the graduating class, bidding them farewell.

The degrees were conferred on the class as follows: B. of L. T. R. Cooper, N. D. Johnson, W. T. Jordan. B. of A. J. G. Bunch, J. C. Caddell, A. E. Walters, W. J. R. Ford. Ab. of A., W. E. Daniel.

The Execution at Goldsboro To-Day.

To-day, Noah Cherry, Robert Thompson and Harris Atkinson will be executed for the murder of James Worley and his wife in February last. The details of the horrible crime have already appeared in the News.

Yesterday a representative of the News called to see the culprits for the last time, and with the view of getting from their own lips a full confession. The prisoners are in excellent health, and their appearance indicates indifference to the awful death that awaits them to-day. Noah Cherry and Harris Atkinson were carrying on a lively conversation, and at the same time enjoying a quantity of pea-nuts which had been given them by a friend.

The reporter first visited Robert Thompson. "Well, Bob, I have come to see you for the last time. Have you any statement to make to-day?"

"Well, sir, I don't know that I have. I am not guilty of the murder, and don't know anything about it. God above knows that I am innocent."

"Where were you born, Bob?"

"In Raleigh, sir. I was a slave of Mr. William Thompson, who raised me. He was a kind master. I am now 42 years old, have been married, but my wife is dead. I have three children, all boys. To-day I saw little Robert. He was named for me. He came to tell me good-bye. I told him to be a good boy, and to remember the fate of his father. I shall never see my little Bob again, but I trust to meet him in Heaven. My other boys will be here to-day. I don't want them to be present when I am hanged. Mr. William F. Atkinson has promised to see that I am buried by the side of my wife. I am prepared to die."

Noah Cherry declined to make any statement whatever, but said he would talk to the people on the scaffold.

Harris Atkinson is still as defiant as ever. Said he, "I am not guilty of the crime, and I am not prepared to die. I expect to go right straight to hell, and don't want the preacher to pray for me."

And thus ended the interview. All the necessary arrangements have been made for the execution. At 1 o'clock the condemned will be led from their cells to the gallows. At 2:30 the rope will be cut.

An immense crowd will be present, probably the largest ever seen in Goldsboro at one time.

We hear some ugly rumors about an effort to rescue the prisoners, but we place no confidence whatever in them.

Supreme Court.

Court met on yesterday at 9 o'clock All the Justices present.

Appeals from the 5th district were called as follows:

Earle & Company vs R W Hardie, Sheriff, from Cumberland; appeal withdrawn at cost of appellants.

F C Bowman, assignee, vs C E Turner, administrator et als, from Harnett; argued for plaintiff by Neill McKoy and W E Murchison, and for defendant by B I Howze.

State vs Richard Fields, from Moore; appeal abandoned.

J J Lane vs W B Richardson, from Moore; argued for plaintiff by J W Hinsdale, and for defendant by Neill McKoy.

Augus Blue et als, vs Flora McFarland et al, from Richmond; argued for plaintiffs by McNeill & McNeill and N W Ray and J D Shaw, and for defendants by N McKoy and J W Hinsdale.

Court adjourned until this (Friday) morning at 9 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Grand Ball at Durham---The Knights in Costume---Duke's Hall---Stanley's Band.

Correspondence of the News.

DURHAM, June 11th.

At a meeting of Durham Lodge, Knights of Pythias, on Saturday night, it was determined to give a hop on the following Monday evening, and although the time for preparation was exceedingly short, the necessary committees were appointed, and all went to work with an energy characteristic of Durham people, and as a result the ball was decidedly the grandest and most successful of the season. Indeed the whole affair was conducted with as much system as if weeks had been spent in its preparation. It is seldom that so much beauty and grace assembles as was gathered together on this festive occasion. In this connection we are pleased to note that Durham Lodge, K of P., is one of the largest as well as the most active Lodges in the State at this time.

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

The Ball given last evening, under the auspices of Durham Lodge, K. of P. will long be remembered as an oacasion of great enjoyment. The following gentlemen composed the Committee of Arrangements: Messrs. J. C. Rogers, J. W. Jones, W. E. Wilson, D. W. Whitaker, Will Barringer and D. E. Mangum. The great success of the ball is the best evidence of the efficient manner in which these gentlemen discharged their duties. They were ably assisted by Mr. Garland E. Webb and others.

THE LADIES.

Below we give a list of the lady participants, together with a brief description of dress:

Miss Claude Barham; ecru grenadine, crimson trimmings.

Mrs Lucius Green; black silk, white trimmings.

Miss Lewellen; white dress, white trimmings.

Miss Leathers; fawn dress, white trimmings.

Miss Jones, Pittsboro; white tarletan, lilac silk bodice.

Miss Bettie Bernard; blue grenadine, pink trimmings.

Mrs. D. C. Mangum; black silk, white lace trimmings.

Miss Lila Galloway, Goldsboro; white tarletan, ornamented with cape jasmine.

Miss Mary Angier; black dress, white over-dress.

Miss Dora Lyon; drab and black, crimson trimmings.

Mrs. Brown; black skirt, pearl overskirt.

Mrs. A. S. Lewter, Salisbury; green grenadine.

Miss Jennie Webb; white tarletan, pink flowers.

Miss Bettie McMannen; white dress, black velvet trimmings.

Miss Sadie Blount; green grenadine, black lace.

Miss Annie Parks, Hillsboro; black silk, white bodice.

Miss Ida Green; pearl silk poplin.

Miss Mollie Kempner; black dress, white overdress.

Miss Maude Brent, Greensboro, ecru and black silk.

Mrs. S. W. Chamberlain, fawn dress, crimson trimmings.

Miss Mattie Williams, Raleigh, drab and ecru.

Miss Mary Wilborn, white pique.

Miss Lizzie Spruil, Halifax, white tarletan, blue trimmings.

Miss Ida Parrish, Hillsboro, white dress, blue trimmings.

In addition to the above, there were present quite a number of both maidens and matrons, tastily attired, who witnessed with much pleasure the graceful movements of the Terpsichorean devotees. The tripping of the light fantastic was continued into the "wee sma' hours" of morn, when belles and beaux reluctantly turned their steps homeward to seek "sleep, balmy sleep, tired nature's sweet restorer," and to pass in review, in the misty realms of dreamland, the pleasant incidents of a most pleasant evening.

Medical men often puzzle themselves over the large sale that Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup enjoys. Its great popularity is due only to the excellent qualities possessed by this household medicine. 25 cents.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

Interesting Proceedings---Alumni Association---Addresses---Biographical---The Faculty.

By Special Reporter for the News.

TRINITY COLLEGE, June 12.

In my letter of yesterday I gave you a sketch of Trinity College, with a report of the opening exercises on the Sabbath. Last night representatives from the societies elected from the Junior class, delivered orations, according to the following:

PROGRAMME.

1. Silent influence, by E. T. Iseley, of Alamance county.
2. The telegraph family, by E. Tanner, of Granville county.
3. Great failures better than little ambitions, by T. W. Taylor, of Granville county.
4. Life is what we make it, by T. N. Ivy, of Lincoln county.
5. Unwritten poetry, by H. E. Norris, of Wake county.
6. Strike for higher wages, by R. B. Clarke, of Anson county.

Mr. Clarke's speech was thought to be superior to the others. Mr. Tanner's speech was received with much favor. It was rather comic. The others did well. The Trinity boys generally speak well.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Alumni Association was called this morning at 11 o'clock, and in the absence of the President of the Association, Rev. M. L. Wood, Presiding Elder of the Greensboro District, was called to the chair. Prof. W. H. Pegram acted as Secretary. Dr. Craven stated that the object of calling the Association together earlier than usual was to arrange for the reading of biographical sketches of all the Alumni, which he had arranged to have prepared by requesting one member of each class to prepare a sketch of all the other members of his class. It was found that several of these persons who had prepared these sketches were present and on motion of Dr. W. A. Willborn, the chair appointed Rev. F. L. Reid, Hon. T. R. Purnell, and G. B. Everett, Esq., a committee to arrange a programme for the public exercises of the Association during the week, and they reported, recommending that the address of welcome be delivered by Professor Johnson, that it be responded to by the Chairman, and that the biographical sketches all be read to-night, and that the annual address be delivered to-morrow night, by Rev. W. C. Gannon, as has been publicly announced, which report was adopted. The Association then adjourned.

THE MEETING AT NIGHT.

At 8 p. m., to-night, a large audience assembled in the College chapel, which has a most magnificent auditorium, the best in the State, to attend the first public meeting of the Alumni Association. Dr. Craven escorted Bishop Wightman to a seat on the rostrum at 8 p. m. Soon thereafter the members of the Alumni Association came in procession, and took seats upon the rostrum. Dr. Craven then announced that he had requested one member from each class that had graduated from Trinity since 1853 to prepare a biographical sketch of their classmates, and that these sketches would be presented to-night. First, however, he announced that Prof L. Johnson, Professor of Mathematics in Trinity College, would deliver

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Prof. Johnson then came forward, and on behalf of the faculty, officials, and citizens of the town, welcomed the gentlemen of the Alumni Association to their Alma Mater. In the course of his remarks he made some very witty mythological speculations, dealt some very heavy blows against the views of such men as Darwin, Huxley, Farrar, Beecher and Ingersoll—deprecated the tendency so prevalent at present to a superficial manner of giving and receiving an education, and closed with a beautiful and impressive description of the struggles and triumphs of the past, and the encouraging prospects of the future of Trinity College. Prof. Johnson is a clear headed gentlemen. His speech was full of sparkling wit, rich beauty and fine common sense. The Professor has always been very popular with the students of the institution, having been connected with it for a number of years.

A RESPONSIVE ADDRESS.

Rev. M. L. Wood, Presiding Elder of the Greensboro District, and President pro tem of the Association, responded to Prof. Johnson's address in a handsome and well-timed address, which was received with applause. This was quite a pleasant little episode in opening the public exercises under the direction of the Alumni Association.

THE BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES.

This is something new in the history of North Carolina Colleges and was quite an entertaining feature. The object of these sketches is that the college may have and hold a history of each of its graduates.

Dr. Craven gave a short sketch of the first class that ever graduated at Trinity, which was in 1853 and consisted of Prof. L. Johnson and Rev. D. C. Johnson, two brothers, the former a Professor now in Trinity College and the latter now dead and a late member of the North Carolina Conference. Rev. M. L. Wood then read a short sketch of each of the members of the class of 1855, which consisted of six members, as follows: Col. J. W. Alspaugh, of Winston, N. C. Dr. Alson Fuller, formerly of North Carolina, J. H Roper, of Florida, Rev. D. R. Burton, of the N. C. Conference and Rev. M. L. Wood of the N. C. Conference.

It was found that the reading of these sketches would consume too much time and it was privately decided to have them handed in to the Secretary of the Alumni Association, Dr. Craven announced the programme of exercises for to-morrow, after which the audience dispersed.

THE FACULTY OF THE COLLEGE.

The Faculty of the College is composed of five well educated and thoroughly trained gentlemen, with Dr. B. Craven as President. They work well in a quiet way and are doing much good in North Carolina. Many poor young men have found in them warm friends and most valuable instructors.

The crowd for Tuesday is larger than usual, and gives promise of a very large crowd to-morrow and next day.

Bishop Wightman is here and in fine condition. He will no doubt give us a most excellent sermon to-morrow. Gov. Colquitt has telegraphed that he will reach Trinity to-morrow morning.

The graduating class is a large one—twenty-two in number. The College has been prosperous, matriculating 137 during the last session. R.

Brewster's name has never been mentioned in connection with the chief Justice place, but we hear it spoken of every day when any one wants cheap hardware, stoves, tinware, wood and willowware, paints, oils and varnish. He is agent for the famous Fowler fly fan. Call and get one. Write for prices of goods and be convinced that he will sell you goods cheaper than elsewhere. *

Keep Cool.

This is a bit of good advice in these "trying" times. 'Tis also a suggestion easy to follow, since by investing in Blake's Ice, the purest and best, one can have a luxury to cool a fevered brow or a parched throat. In our climate ice has a thousand uses and is a necessity. *

VEGETINE.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated, that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald-head and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.
